Dear Parents

The Orderly has just been to the Post office, but no letters for me, I have written this will make three letters home and it is about time that I had one. I wrote to Jan and the next day I got an answer he says that they had orders to pack up what they wanted to send home in three hours for they expected to get orders to start somewhere but did not know where. I am well and have got rid of my cold and sore throat.

the man that was sick in the hospital has since died and was sent home that is the only man
