More information and a list of recipients of PHP grants can be found at our website.

People Helping People, Inc.

is a voluntary charitable organization founded in 1973 by the faculty and staff and retirees of Stetson University. People Helping People (PHP) provides financial assistance to nonprofit organizations in western Volusia County.

We aim to assist organizations working with low-income or disadvantaged persons. The grants must be used to start new programs, assist existing organizations with financial emergencies, or provide for special financial needs not covered by regular budgets. PHP does not give funds to individuals.

To Apply for a Grant

Representatives of organizations who wish to apply for a grant can go to our website. They would then click on “Apply for a Grant” where they will find an email link to Colin MacFarlane at cmafarlane@stetson.edu. They can then send an email and attach the grant request.

To Contribute

People Helping People relies solely on contributions from the faculty, staff and retirees of Stetson University for its income. We hope all members of these groups will consider making contributions through payroll deductions or individual gifts (see details on the back) in support of local outreach efforts.
