

STETSON LAW REVIEW

VOLUME XXXIII

FALL 2003

NUMBER 1

APPELLATE ADVOCACY SYMPOSIUM, PART II

INTRODUCTION

In this Issue, the Stetson Law Review revisits the subject of appellate advocacy, which was the subject of its 2003 publication, Appellate Advocacy Symposium, 32 Stetson L. Rev. 241 (2003). This initial publication received such a positive reception that the Stetson Law Review Editorial Board felt this topic merited an additional book. For this Issue, as for the earlier symposium, the Stetson Law Review invited authors to address legal issues relevant to the appellate bar. The Review also welcomed authors to share their personal insights into appellate practice. The Review hopes that appellate lawyers, judges, and other interested parties benefit from the articles.
