LIBRARY & EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE:

Assistant Professor, Learning & Information Literacy Librarian (08/2015-present)
duPont-Ball Library, Stetson University, DeLand, FL

I coordinate the information literacy instruction program and teach the majority of instruction sessions requested by faculty for classes of all disciplines and levels. I also assess information literacy, create online learning objects, provide individual research assistance to students and faculty, and engage in the research & service activities required of tenure-track faculty. My research interests include faculty & student relationships with information literacy.

Graduate Assistant (08/2013-07/2015)
Scholars Commons, Florida State University Libraries, Tallahassee, FL

I participated in the work of the Scholars Commons to support FSU faculty & graduate students. I provided research consultations, in person and virtual reference, created research guides, taught more than 70 library instruction sessions, participated in collection development, and was interim subject librarian to the departments of Art, Art History, Interior Design, and Women's Studies.

Graduate Teaching Assistant (08/2012-05/2013)
Department of Gender and Race Studies, University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, AL

I taught two sections per semester of WS 200 Introduction to Women's Studies with a total of about 30 students in each section. These courses fostered an active-learning environment and were lecture and discussion based. I was responsible for all aspects of instruction, syllabus design, and classroom management. I also oversaw group activism projects.

Library Technician (06/2011-08/2013)

Temerson Children's Library, Homewood Public Library, Homewood, AL

As a part-time staff member, I monitored the children's reference desk, provided reference assistance and readers' advisory services, assisted librarians with collection development, programming, publicity, etc.
